VOTERS SLIGHT
HEAD OF TICKET

Run True to Form in Primary,
Records Show; Men Lowest
on Ballot Getting Least

Voters ran true to form in the primary in casting less votes for the men below the first few places on the ticket.

Records of the secretary of state's office show that in all elections the candidates below the head of the ticket are slighted.

"The usual percentage figured," said Thomas Hall, secretary of state today, "is that the man five places down on the ballot will receive five per cent votes less than the head of the ticket; the man about half-way down will receive 10 per cent less and the men from the tenth to the last place will receive in some cases 14 per cent less votes than the head of the ticket."

This percentage is found to obtain generally in Nebraska, Iowa and other states which may be compared to North Dakota in elections. It also is true in about the same ratio in most states.

COAL SHORTAGE IS DISCUSSED

St. Paul, July 8.—Representatives of civic organizations in Duluth, Minneapolis and St. Paul, members of the railroad and warehouse commission, Senator Knute Nelson and others, considered coal shortage in the northwest next winter. Plans for averting a threatened coal shortage in the northwest next winter will be taken up.

O. P. B. Jacobson, member of the commission, said that he has made a comprehensive investigation of conditions at lake ports and at the mines, and is reviewing various officials at Washington on the subject. His information, he said, will be presented at the meeting tomorrow.

Southern Colored Republican
Declares Men "Disappear" Who

SAYS GREAT SUMS SPENT

Tells How Money Was Used in Pre-Convention Campaign;
Wood Fund is Explained

Chicago, July 8.—Negroes who voted the Republican ticket in Georgia have "disappeared" and have never been heard of again, Henry L. Johnson, Republican national committee man, told the senate committee investigating campaign expenditures today. The committee was inquiring into the use of money in the south.

"They don't lynch men for belonging to the Republican party, do they?" Senator Kenyon asked.

"Oh yes, they do," Johnson replied, "many a negro voting the Republican ticket has disappeared and no tidings have ever been heard of him."

In Dublin, Ga., during the pre-convention campaign there "was wild use of money," the witness asserted, "I spent only $150 there," he explained, "but the other fellows spent more than $2,000."

"The other fellows," he said, "were the representatives of Maj. General Leonard Wood, while I was working for myself as national committee man."

Spent $60,000
Asked if Wood's supporters bought delegates Johnson said he didn't know but they passed out plenty of money.

Johnson declared that backers of Gen. Wood spent around $60,000 in Georgia while the Lowden supporters spent only $20,000.

Clark L. Grier, former postmaster at Augusta, Ga., was the pay-off man for the Wood people, he said, adding that Grier worked under direct orders from Frank Hitchcock, former postmaster general and Wood manager, he said.

Democrats paid from $5 to $5,000 in Georgia for votes this year and generally spent more money than the Republicans, he said.

"Not one cent given to me was given any delegate to the Republican national convention," he said, "adding that he received $3,000 from Illinois but not from Gov. Lowden himself."

One million dollars with which to further the campaign of Major General Leonard Wood for the Republican candidate for president was underwritten by a group of New York men a year ago, William Loeb, eastern treasurer for Wood, told the investigating committee.

Mr. Loeb, formerly private secretary to Theodore Roosevelt, said he was called into conference with George Whelan, Rufus Patterson, Col. Ambrose Monell, Giff Freeman and others to give his opinion as to what the campaign would cost.

He estimated the expense at $1,000,000, he told the committee. "Col. Monell underwrote $250,000, Mr. Whelan $250,000, William Cooper Proctor $250,000 and I agreed to get the rest."

Caterpillars Crossing Tracks in Large Numbers Demoralize
Train Schedules

St. Paul, July 8.—Caterpillars in large numbers are demoralizing train service on the Duluth, Winnipeg and Northwestern railroad in St. Louis county. Dillon Tierney said today on his return to St. Paul from that section.

Crossing the tracks in great hosts the caterpillars stop trains and make it impossible to run on schedule, he said.

"The forest caterpillar, besides making trouble for the railroad has stripped foliage from poplar trees in a district from 40 to 50 miles wide and extending from the Lake Vermilion westward to Red Lake," he said.

"The great has retarded the growth of all poplars and killed many of the trees. The extent of the damage cannot be estimated until next season."

Because of the character of the caterpillar infested district no method of successfully fighting them has been found.

CHURCH BARS WOMEN IN SCANTY APPAREL

Superior, Wis., July 8.—"Entrance to this church is forbidden to any woman wearing improper apparel."

This is the sign that all members of Catholic churches in Superior will be confronted with when entering their church Sunday morning.

The order has been posted by order of Bishop J. M. Koudelka, of the Superior diocese. For some time the bishop has been making a crusade against what he terms as improperly dressed women, and he believes there will be no violations of this edict.

100,000 WORKERS
NOW ENGAGED IN HARVEST OF WHEAT

Washington, July 8.—A land army of 100,000 farm hands, recruited and organized by the department of agriculture is moving northward across the western wheat belt, harvesting the nation's wheat crop in better time than many years, according to the farm labor department of the department of agriculture.

"For the first time in years farmers have not been handicapped by labor shortage," Director Taylor, of the farm bureau said. Attracted by a wage of $1 for a 10-hour day, thousands of workers from Atlantic and Allegheny regions have come west of the Mississippi river to join the harvest drive, according to department officials.

SEES SERIOUS RESULTS FROM CAR HANDICAP

Minneapolis Grain Dealer Sounds
Note of Warning to Producers to Prepare

Minneapolis, July 7.—Terminal grain interests have exhausted every possible means to meet the problems of handling grain and with serious marketing problems forecast for the fall it behooves the producers, who will be the chief sufferers, to take action in final recourse in obtaining an adequate car supply.

This note was sounded today by S. B. Wells, of Minneapolis, chairman of the general grain committee of the United States, who returned from Chicago this morning from a conference of dealers in grain and grain products from all sections of the country.

"He spoke today at the annual meeting of the Tri-State Grain Shippers' association."

Inability of the railroads to handle the crop adequately will have two primary results, Mr. Wells said. First, the grain producer is likely to receive less for his crop, for the buyer unable to judge when he can ship the grain will have to require a much larger margin as a protection against the hazards of poor transportation.

In the second place the check of grain flow will prevent a liquidation of the crop and will deprive farmers of credit and deprive them of finance for fall farm operations, he added.

Priority of service in favor of the more essential commodities is necessary to relieve the present transportation on the railroads, Samuel Willard, chairman of the advisory committee of the railway executives, declared today.

STEEN-WINNER
OVER WALKER,
RETURNS SHOW

Former State Treasurer and Independent Republican Named in Primary

John Steen of Rugby, for two terms state treasurer, has been nominated by the Republicans of North Dakota opposed to the Townley regime. With practically complete returns in from Dickey county, the exception of Dickey, Nelson, Walsh and Williams, Steen has a lead over Walker of 1,905.

In Dickey Steen and Walker will break about even. Nelson and Walsh will give Steen more of a lead and Walker's socialist following in Williams cannot put him over.

More complete returns today increased Steen's lead over Walker. Hill and puts him over without question. One of the Townley's railroad commissioners has been defeated. Dupuis seems to be low man. An official count will be necessary to determine at least two of the places on this board.

Miss Minnie Neilson and Judge Christensen are maintaining a safe lead over their opponents and will go into the real conflict this fall with the prestige of leading at the primaries. Neilson, Johnson, Christensen and Richardson all appear on the nonpartisan ballot at the general election in November.

LANGER PLUNGES INTO DUTIES AT CAPITOL OFFICE

Republican Candidate for Governor
Receives Congratulations on Great Race

William Langer, independent Republican candidate for governor, who was defeated in the primary, is back at his desk in the capitol.

Mr. Langer is in fine spirits, and has received the congratulations of many callers on the remarkable race he made, reducing a majority of two years ago from 17,000 to a figure probably not more than 5,000.

After the terrific strain of the speaking tour which Republican headwaters stepped out for him, Mr. Langer is still a little husky.

Yesterday Mr. Langer dug into a bunch of correspondence and completed it before leaving his office in the evening. His office has been working feverishly on a general strike at the weep-end and a new revolutionary committee is said to have arranged for a big mass meeting in a day or two to consider the question of drastic action.

POLISH NATION
CALLED TO ARMS
TO FIGHT REDS

Council of Defense Issues Manifesto Asking All Able-bodied Men to Report

RUSSIAN TROOPS ADVANCE

Polish Official Statement Admits River Crossing and Reds Claim Big Victory

Warsaw, (Wednesday by the A. P.) Volunteers for immediate service against the advancing Bolshevik forces are called for by the Polish national council of defense in a manifesto just published.

Besides calling the able bodied men to arms the manifesto urges them to register for active service to register in order to relieve office men for duty at the front.

The document, which bears the signature of Pres. Pilsudski, declares the struggle is a fight against Bolshevism rather than against Russia.

CROSS RIVER
Warsaw, July 8.—Bolshevik troops, after several fruitless attempts, have staged an effective crossing of the Beresina in strong force near Nalio, southeast of Borisov, about 50 miles north of Minsk. It was announced in today's Polish official communique.

SMASH FORWARD
London, July 8.—The Russian Bolshevik forces have smashed their way forward on the southern flank of the Polish front and Soviet Russia near Staro-Konstantin, toward which town they are driving the Poles according to a Bolshevik official statement by wireless.

Soviet forces have reached Lipitchev and have occupied Tshilev. Podolsk in their drive along the Dvina river. Heavy fighting is going on between the Bolsheviks and forces commanded by Gen. Wrangle on the southern front, the statement says.

FILL YOUR COAL
BINS NOW, SAYS
RAILROAD AGENT

Bismarck People Must Act at Once to Escape Serious
Coal Shortage

Bismarck people are advised to lay in their winter supply of coal as early as possible so that they will not be caught in the serious coal shortage which is very likely to occur this winter.

W. A. McDonald, local agent for the Northern Pacific Railway Co., has received from General Freight Agent Blakesley an urgent statement to this effect that the situation is very serious for the people in this territory being served by the N. P. railroad. He advises that everyone intending to use coal this winter get it in their bins at once.

Startling Figures
He backs his statements on the following figures. During the past year there has been a decrease of 25 per cent in hard coal and there has also been an enormous decrease in the supply of soft coal of over 4,000,000 tons. When one considers that the total number of tons of soft coal only amount to 8,000,000 tons last year, it is easy to realize what this shortage means.

The figures show that there was on hand at the opening of the navigation season in 1920, 25,000 tons of hard coal, and that there had been received up to June 20, 353,323 tons for a total of 377,323 tons of hard coal. There was on hand at the opening of the season 230,000 tons of soft coal, and that received up to June 20, 874,343 tons, gives a total supply of 904,343 tons of soft coal.

AUTO MECHANIC
ARRESTED WITH CAR AND GIRL

Robert Smith Probably Will Face Two Serious Charges
Following Arrest

Robert Smith, an automobile mechanic, is in the county jail today, and probably will face two serious charges.

He was brought back from Dickinson, where he was arrested with an automobile which it is alleged he stole from the Northwestern Automotive company. Smith, it is said, denied that he attempted to steal the car.

The car disappeared about 3 p. m. Tuesday afternoon. Sheriff Welch was notified a couple of hours later, and sheriffs for miles around were telephoned to be on the lookout for Smith. At 9 p. m. Smith drove into Dickinson and an officer was waiting for him.

Sheriff Welch and Police Chris Mortenson brought him back from Dickinson last night, and a preliminary hearing was to be held today.

With Smith when he was arrested was a girl, said to be not more than 13 or 14 years of age. She was brought back to the city.

In addition to the charge of theft of the automobile, Smith may be charged with abduction of the girl, it is said.

Smith told the sheriff that he took the car to sell, and did not intend to steal it. Authorities assert that he was on his way to Montana with the girl and car.

W. E. Holbein of Minn. will speak. The question of a State Tariff Association to protect shippers against discrimination and errors will be discussed.

COUNTRY WON'T SUFFER WHILE WEST PRODUCES

Crop Conditions Throughout Middle West Reported to be Improved

LACK OF LABOR HINDERS

Wheat Harvesting Now Under Way in Southern Part of Great Wheat Belt

Chicago, July 8.—Marked improvement in the principal food crops of the middle west has been reported in the last few weeks, in contrast to unfavorable prospects earlier in the season which gave rise to some alarm. "There is no danger that the country will starve this year," is the comment that J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, made on reviewing the situation.

President Howard reported that the corn prospect was now very fair and that wheat was really better. Corn production promised to be a little under normal, but it was well cultivated and clean and would turn out well with good weather in July and August.

While the wheat crop would not be fair. As against a lighter acreage there was a heavy carry over. Mr. Howard estimated that 30 per cent of last year's wheat remained on Kansas farms today. In Kansas and Oklahoma a better wheat crop than last year is expected.

Oats were very short and showed no improvement, Mr. Howard added.

Crops are reported late. North Dakota sends word of better crop conditions than for several years. Reports from various states in the producing sections follow:

SHORTAGE OF LABOR

Concordia, Kan., July 8.—Shortage of manpower in the harvest fields has prompted the organization of a special time counterpart of the famous war time "Waack." The peace time non-munition, however, is "Women's Auxiliary Agricultural Corps." During the war the famous British women's order was "Women's Army Auxiliary Corps."

It is the only way to meet the crisis," said one of the women leaders in the movement. "There is much work that we can do and it has to be done. Male applicants for work are scarce and want too much money."

The harvest "Waack" are working in the harvest fields by the score, driving "headers" and binders, shocking wheat, raking hay and frequently doing more strenuous labor.

IDEAL CONDITIONS

Topeka, Kans., July 8.—Almost ideal conditions the last few weeks have prevailed for crop planting and growth in Kansas. The condition of practically all crops is declared "excellent" by both federal and state crop authorities.

In the last two months official estimates of the wheat crop now being harvested have increased from 92,000,000 bushels to 111,000,000.

NORTH DAKOTA

Fargo, N. D., July 8.—Crop conditions in North Dakota are better than they have been for several years. Small grain in the Red River valley are reported in excellent condition, sufficient rains falling in that section to reduce materially the grasshopper menace. In the western part of the state small grain also are in good condition, but the soil there has been light and farmers are apprehensive on account of the grasshoppers. The 1920 small grain acreage in the state is 20 per cent less than last year's.

WHEAT HEADED

Springfield, Ill., July 8.—Wheat in this part of the state is headed out, promising a good yield. Oats, because of the dry weather, is short strawed and one month late.

MISSOURI REPORT

Jefferson City, Mo., July 8.—Favorable crop results are expected in Missouri, according to the state board of agriculture, despite the inclement conditions in May, which reduced wheat conditions to a point where the yield is estimated to be 20 per cent of normal.

It is estimated that the wheat crop of 1920 will be 29,762,160 bushels of winter wheat, 141,000 of spring wheat and 29,773,750 of oats; although 350,000 acres are idle.

TEXAS CONDITIONS

Dallas, Tex., July 8.—Crop conditions in Texas improved materially during the three week period ending July 20 according to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. All crops are reported from 30 to 40 days late now.

KILLS HUSBAND AN EX-CONVICT, AND CONFESSES

Mrs. Louis Godon, Living Near Langdon, N. D., Confesses Her Crime

Grand Forks, July 7.—Louis Godon, who resided about 20 miles from Langdon in Cavalier county, was shot and killed by his wife early Saturday morning, according to State's Attorney Crumson. Mrs. Godon has admitted the homicide. Mr. Crumson left here for Langdon to complete arrangements for the inquest, which will be held.

Details of the murder are meager. Mr. Crumson said yesterday that he had checked up on the woman's story, and he would make none of the details public until after the inquest. The shooting occurred at the Godon home about 4 o'clock Saturday morning, he said. Mr. and Mrs. Godon had been having considerable trouble of late, he declared.

Mr. Crumson did say, however, that Mrs. Godon admitted killing her husband, declaring that she was afraid of him. She told the authorities that he had threatened to kill her. Godon recently served time in the state prison at Bismarck. He was convicted of a statutory crime, the complaining witness being Mrs. Godon's daughter. Mr. Crumson said last night that Mrs. Godon had been instrumental in securing a parole for Godon. The state's attorney protested against granting the parole, but to no avail.

His close friends said he will urge his political advisers against a "front porch" campaign such as Senator Harding, the Republican nominee, expects to make at his home in Marion.

Called to Old Home
Governor Cox spent the day receiving old friends at his home, "Arms End," near Dayton, and in his office, at his newspaper, the Dayton News. ## TOWNLEY WILL ENTER TICKET IN MINNESOTA

Adequate Campaign Funds to be Raised for Part in Gopher Election

Minneapolis, July 8.—Farmers and labor representatives in session here yesterday decided to enter the Minnesota November election with an independent ticket. The move is being prompted by A. C. Townley, president of the national nonpartisan league, who was defeated in the Republican primaries which he tried to capture through manipulation of the socialist vote in Republican primaries.

An adequate campaign fund must be raised, however. Mr. Townley addressed the meeting. Other speakers were Thomas V. Sullivan, defeated for attorney general; Rev. O. J. Kviste, nominated over Congressman Volstead; and Thomas Van Lear, former socialist mayor of Minneapolis.

"If I could make you realize what this fight means to your enemies, to you, there'd be no doubt as to the result of the next election," Mr. Townley said. "You are doing the most difficult and important work men ever tried to do in fighting to free yourselves and your children from the clutches of those men and groups of men and concentrated wealth which hold the people on the farms and in the cities within their control."

This is not a new battle. It is the struggle of those who toil against those who do not toil. It is the struggle of every day men and women to be free, to have a government that treats all fairly.

"For a long time in America democracy hasn't been much of a success. The working people haven't expressed themselves in government. Corporate wealth has had its way. They have always won. Corporations have dominated the government, and offices, nearly all of the legislatures and nearly all of the county offices. They have made all the rules through their control of the law making power and control the conditions under which you live. In no state is all this more true than in Minnesota, the home of the steel trust. The big interests have lost their grip in only one state, North Dakota. Five years ago they lost control of the legislature, of state officers, of the courts and now they have lost control of county offices."

"I know something about this fight," Mr. Townley continued. "I started it and expected to be alive when it is finished. We've been close enough to the goal to know what they look like. The Nonpartisan league is a business proposition to you. It is the biggest one you've got. We won in 27 counties two years ago. This year we won in 50."

Politically we haven't anything to lose. There's a good chance for our enemies to lose. They've got to lose before we do. They will lose if you men and women here will make this a business proposition. Is it a good fight? Is it the part of men to keep it up or shall we lay down?"

Pandemonium broke loose as the League president fired his questions at the farmers.

"We'll stick," they yelled.

Townley's decision to enter the independent column in Minnesota was received with interest in Bismarck and other centers of this state. It encouraged the Republicans here to continue the fight as most of them contend that it was the socialist vote in the Republican primaries that defeated them.

CO-OP DECISION WAITED BY HIGH N. P. LEAGUERS

Hearing Before Minnesota Securities Commission Brings Hot Arguments

St. Paul, July 8.—The state securities commission is expected to act soon upon the charges made against the management of the Wholesale Co-operative Society of America by three directors, who demand that the stock-selling license of the organization be revoked.

Many chiefs high in the Nonpartisan league councils in the past or present were present at the hearings. Bitter charges were made by some of those participating in the hearing. During the frequent fits between James Manahan, counsel for the Co-operative society, and Arthur Le Seur, counsel for the complaining directors, Manahan referred to what he termed Le Seur's methods of I. W. W. and sabotage. Le Seur hotly retorted:

"Your own client was one of the charter members and organizers of the I. W. W."

H. Tangen, of Frederick, S. D., when asked by Manahan if he was an I. W. W., at first retorted that it was no one's business and then said he was not an I. W. W.

A report referred to by Le Seur in his claim that the organization,

New York, July 7.—According to a report of the Metropolitan Life insurance company, in the first six months of this year there were four deaths among the industrial policy holders of the company from wood alcohol poisoning incidental to the use of adulterated beverages. How much the deaths from alcoholism, in this narrow sense have been reduced is indicated by the fact that in the first three months of 1914 there were sixty-two deaths from these causes, against twelve this year. Similarly alcoholic cirrhosis of the liver shows

MOST POWERFUL OF ALL RADIOS TO BE ERECTED

Super-Station Will Occupy 6,400
Acre Tract Near New York,
According to Plans

New York, July 7.—(Contract for the construction of what will be the most powerful radio station in the world, to be built east of Port Jefferson, on Long Island, are being let by the Radio Corporation of America. This new super-station which will occupy a 6,400-acre tract, will be five times as powerful as either the one at Neuen, Germany, or Bordeaux, France, according to Edward J. Nally, president of the corporation.

A new departure in radio construction is to be made at the new station. There will be five complete duplex transmitting units with a corresponding receiving station located near by. The great power of the station is due to the fact that the five transmitters, each one of which will have as much power as any in existence today, can be operated simultaneously.

New Scheme

Under this new scheme, Mr. Nally went on to say, New York would be the direct focal point of the world's intelligence in an entirely new sense.

The form of aerial construction is also to be entirely new. From the central power house six spans of aerial wire, each supported by twelve 400-foot steel towers, will radiate out in a star pattern to a distance of more than one mile from the centre. Five of these antenna spokes will be used for regular service, the sixth being reserved for an emergency.

Can Encircle Globe

The telegraphic signal created by the combination of these five units will be able to encircle the globe. The equipment of each of these units will be similar to that which is at present in the corporation's New Brunswick (N. J.) station. From which the voice of Secretary of the Navy Daniels was carried to President Wilson when he was at sea on board the U. S. George Washington. In experimental tests with this radio telephone the distance of 2,500 miles has successfully been covered.

The energy required to span these thousands of miles will be generated by ten alternators of 200 kilowatt capacity each. Two for each unit are to be installed at the new station thus generating a total power of 2,000 kilowatts, 3,000 horsepower.

REAL PROFITS HIDDEN, SAYS UNION LAWYER

Charges that Anthracite Coal Industry is Dominated by Monopolistic Scheme

Scranton, Pa., July 8.—A charge that the anthracite coal industry is dominated by a monopolistic system, that "presses up to squeeze the consumer and down to squeeze the wage earner by diverting profits at points where neither can see them through the screen of bookkeeping and legal devices" was made today before the anthracite coal commission by W. Jett Lauck, in arguing the admissibility of exhibits on profiteering and monopoly, which he submitted in behalf of the United Mine Workers of America and to which representatives of the operators interposed objections.

Mr. Lauck also declared the real profits were at least seven times the apparent profits. The commission was appointed by President Wilson to settle wage disputes.

Revenue of more than $50,000,000 a year is now received by the United States from brokers' licenses and stock transactions.

AMERICAN ENGINEER TOLD TRUTH ABOUT SOVIET RUSSIA AND GETS ARRESTED; FATE UNDETERMINED

Royal C. Keely said "The Misery and Dislocation of Life is Complete," Referring to Rule of the Bolsheviks; Tried by an "Industrial Commission" in Moscow

London, July 8.—Royal C. Keely, an American engineer recently arrested by Bolshevik authorities as he was about to leave Russia where he had executed an industrial commission for the Soviet government, incurred the displeasure of the Soviets because he "told the truth, plain and unvarnished." Nicolas Isnard, chairman of the All-Russian Central Council of Trade and Industry, said upon his arrival here Isnard fled from Russia where, he declared, "the misery and dislocation of life is complete."

The fate of the American has not been learned. According to Isnard, Keely went to Russia in September, 1919, at the invitation of the Bolshevik government, and as an expert on technical and industrial organization was asked to make a complete report to the Soviet government "on ways and means to save the Russian industrial situation."

Traveled Widely.

"On his arrival in Russia, Keely was received with great honors and exceptional facilities were afforded him to travel all over the country," Isnard said. "He visited the industrial concerns of Petrograd and Moscow, travelled to the great textile center of Ivanovo-Vosnesensk, and to the coal mines of the Donetz, and completed his trip by a tour in the Urals."

"Upon his return to Moscow in January 1920, Keely was lodged in the commissariat of foreign affairs, in the famous palace whether other distinguished visitors later found a sumptuous welcome and the Kremlin intimated its great desire for his report. Here the American committed his first and greatest mistake. In his report he told the Soviets the truth, plain and unvarnished. The gist of his report can be resumed as follows:

"The industrial concerns of Petrograd are ruined completely, and it will need years to get them into some sort of working order. The machines and tools are in a disorderly condition, rapidly deteriorating, and many vital parts are lacking. All skilled labor seems to have disappeared completely. The Donetz coal mines are in a very bad position also, and will need two or three years to put them straight. The works in the Urals are in a better condition and could be turned up quickly. But nothing useful can be achieved until all decrees against property and personal security are annulled."

An Example.

Isnard declared Keely, in an explanatory note, gave "extraordinary examples of Bolshevik incompetence," one of which was that boilers of the electrical station in Petrograd were kept going for some time by stoking them with all the great stores of machinery accumulated in the car-building shops there.

After this report Keely's position changed completely. Isnard continued, and although he prevailed upon the foreign commissariat to give him a permit to leave the country, he was arrested at the frontier, and since then nothing has been heard about him.

FANS CAN'T SEE McGEAR'S MOTIVE IN KAUFF CASE

New York, July 8.—New York is trying to figure out another Giant move on baseball's checkerboard.

The announcement from the Giant office that Benny Kauff, the "Cobb of the Federal league," and a first class major league outfielder, had been waived out of both leagues to the Toronto International provoked not the mildest surprise of a season of surprises.

Kauff is not the Kauff of old; but he is still a ball player that could help out most any club in the league. There is hardly a club in both leagues that could not use him.

Yet he is waived out, marked with the "not wanted" sign. But he had been playing as good as he did last season and he was good enough for the team when the Giants were making a desperate bid for the pennant.

This season he has been alternating in centerfield.

control of prices. The main activity has been to discover those individuals, if any, who are responsible for the increasing price and to bring them within the reach of the law. So far they have not been successful in bringing any but incidental malefactors to justice, and, popular belief in the malignant profiteer to the contrary, it does not seem that the price of sugar has much to do with causes which are capable of being controlled by any particular set of individuals, says The Canadian Nation in a recent issue.

Now the filmiest of summer materials are practical

You can wash them with perfect safety.

THE sheerest batistes and nainsooks, the finest handkerchief linens, cobwebby voiles and organdies—they can give as good service today as gingham!

It is all a question of how you wash them. Naturally, when you rubbed soap into them, and scrubbed it out again, those delicate fabrics never used to last! The fine things could not stand it. But there is no rubbing with Lux—just the sousing through rich foamy Lux suds, the gentle cleansing that gossamer fabrics demand.

With Lux your blouses and gowns may be ever so filmy—yet softly cleansed and protected.

Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux—Leaves Brothers Co., Cambridge, Mass.

How to launder sheer fabrics

Use one tablespoonful of Lux to 4 gallons of water. Whisk to a rich lather in very hot water. Lay white things soak for a few minutes, then dip them up and down. Press the suds through again and again. Do not rub. Rinse in three hot waters and dry in the sun.

For colors add cold water until suds are lukewarm. Wash quickly and rinse in three lukewarm waters. Dry in the shade.

Nothing so delicate as Lux for dainty summer frocks

The dining room was decorated with cut flowers and wild flowers were in abundance throughout the club-house.

All of the arrangements for the dance were made by the entertainment committee of the club, consisting of Mrs. G. A. Rawlings, Mrs. F. E. Shepard and Fred Conklin, who also have planned other entertainment for the visitors during the week.

NEW RULES FORMULATED TO BENEFIT SERVICE MEN WHO HAVE DROPPED AND WANT TO RENEW WAR RISK INSURANCE

New conditions under which lapsed or cancelled war risk (term) insurance may be reinstated are announced by Director R. G. Cholmeley-Jones of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance with the approval of F. W. Houston, Secretary of the Treasury. The new ruling, officially designated as "T. D. 61 W. R.", is effective July 1, 1920.

The features of maximum interest to former service men provide for reinstatement or conversion of lapsed or cancelled war risk (term) insurance under conditions substantially as follows:

The applicant must also comply with the following requirements in reference to health to the satisfaction of the Director of War Risk Insurance.

ROSE-TINTED LINEN AND LACE USED IN GOWN

BY CORA MOORE.

New York's Fashion Authority, New York, June 28.—The designers have evolved many unusual ways for introducing the heavy cotton laces this season and here is shown one of them. The gown material is a heavy rose-tinted linen and the lace, dyed to match, is in a bold fleur-de-lis pattern superimposed on a net foundation.

The skirt is plain and gathered evenly at the top save for a gathered section set in over the hips and enclosed by two pockets formed on the heavy lace. A shaped band of the lace encircles the long-sleeved blouse with its sailor-like collar and two narrow bands in the shape of shoulder straps add their bit to the decoration.

As illustrated here, the belt, is of importance, patent leather in black or some very definite color, being a first choice.

Incidentally, when Julia Marlowe sailed this week for Europe, one of her trunks carried the original of this model.

NEARLY BILLION PEOPLE SUBJECT TO MALARIA, SAYS EXPERT REPORT

New York, July 8.—Eight hundred million people living in the world's "malaria zone," which practically coincides with the tropical and semi-tropical regions of the earth, are subject to the "crippling and deadly influence of that disease," according to George E. Vincent, President of the Rockefeller Foundation. Residents of the southern part of the United States, Mexico, Central America, the West Indies, and the northern part of South America are included in this "malaria belt," said Mr. Vincent, who today issued the second of a series of reviews on the Foundation's work against malaria and hook-worm for the year 1919.

Practical methods for fighting malaria, as used by the Foundation's sanitarians, include elimination of the germ carrying anophelous mosquito by preventing its breeding; the screening of houses against this mosquito, and the use of quinine to sterilize the blood of human malaria carriers.

"Public funds are a necessity in the control of malaria as well as hook-worm," the review continues, "and are now being appropriated faster than sanitarians can be found to do the work."

The picnic held on Monday was the largest gathering of colored people ever held in the town, the pastor said.

OWN YOUR HOME
At an auction sale held recently in New York City, 1388 separate lots in the Bronx were auctioned off for more than half a million dollars within 16 hours. That is at the rate of 87 lots an hour. The average price paid was $360 a lot. The most significant thing about the sale was the fact that practically without exception purchasers were "small investors."

It marks many things. For instance, it is an indication that the end of the rent gouger is not far away. The people are getting disgusted with paying rent, in unheard of amounts. It is a sign, moreover, that the great bulk of Americans want a snug little nest they can call their own, and it is a challenge they intend to protect it from any wild-eyed, agitated radical.

The value of a dollar decreases every time a new oil company is formed.

BOUNCING BET
Bouncing Bet.
That's her name. She's hearty, buxom, pink. Crude, perhaps. But vigorous and healthy. No delicate, fainting blossom is Bouncing Bet.
She grows in fence corners, and by roadsides. There's a story of courage in how this flower, which is called a weed, found a place for herself in the United States.
Early immigrants brought the plant with them from England.
The leaves and roots contain saponin. They can be used in washing, as a substitute for soap. Perhaps that was the reason they brought it. More likely, because it reminded them of the homes they had left. At any rate, they gave the flower a place in their gardens, and some called it by the prettier name, "My Lady's Wash Bowl."

Bouncing Bet didn't appeal to later generations. They rooted her out of their gardens. An out-cast, disdained, she remained undaunted. She sought a place for herself, and found it. The roadside is dusty. But she makes the best of it. Many a highway is brightened by the pink and jaunty face of Bouncing Bet.

A GOOD PLATFORM
Speaking of platforms, Thomas Jefferson, first of the democrats, wrote as good a platform as any. It contained 10 planks and 98 words. Jefferson called it "A Decalogue of Canons for Practical Life," and here it is:

- 1—Never put off till tomorrow what you can do today.
  - 2—Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.
  - 3—Never spend your money before you have it.
  - 4—Never buy what you do not want, because it is cheap; it will be dear to you.
  - 5—Pride costs us more than hunger, thirst and cold.
  - 6—We never repent of having eaten too little.
  - 7—Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.
  - 8—How much pain have cost us the evils that have never happened.
  - 9—Take things always by the smooth handle.
  - 10—If angry, count ten before you speak; if over-angry, count a hundred.
- This is a platform strong enough to hold Democrats, Republicans and Nonpartisans; suffragists and anti-suffragists; wets and dries.
Old stuff? Surely! Jefferson wrote it in 1825. But, in general, it is still to be put into practice by most folks.

Perhaps the movie stars' problem could be solved by issuing divorces with marriage licenses.

A FRIEND IN NEED
The whole neighborhood was disturbed. House-work was suspended. Men, women and children ran wildly here and there, searching, questioning, looking for little Mary Ryan.
Little Mary had wandered—as children would—out through the open door, into the street, on down to the corner, and into a realm of which she knew nothing.
She trudged on through the jungle of the unknown into the arms of a kindly-faced policeman, who asked her all sorts of personal and embarrassing questions. The child was too unsprung to reply, so the officer took her to a new home—into a large room, where she met several other gentlemen in blue.
What a kind, happy, wonderful reception Mary got there! She'll never forget it. Neither will she forget the all-day sucker, and the ice cream cone they gave her. And the funny, fat cop who insisted on holding her on his lap and bouncing her up and down to her keen enjoyment. It was lots of fun. It was great to "git losted."

It was almost a disappointment to be taken to her home by a neighbor who happened to call at the station. She had become so accustomed to the new life. And when Mary reached home and had helped wipe the glad tears from her mother's eyes, she said:
"Cops ain't bad, are they, mum?"
What the neighborhood, heretofore afraid of the uniform, remembered ever after.

LIGHT SUMMER READING
If you have in your house any old newspapers, say of the year 1914 or thereabouts, you can make the long hot summer evenings pleasant for yourself and your family by reveling in the pleasant memories any of these old papers unfold.
On the last page a grocer advertises, casually enough, a sale of 25 pounds of sugar for a dollar, and close by it is the advertisement of the clothing merchant who offers $25 suits marked down to $15. And there is a shoe man with a July sale of men's low cuts for $2.48 a pair, all leather, too.
"Why didn't I think of buying a dozen pairs?" pa will sigh.
"And look at this!" ma will exclaim, snatching the sheet out of his hands. "Here's a fine gingham dress advertised for $3.50. What do you know about that? You couldn't get the same thing for $15 today!"
And here are madras shirts for a dollar each and collars for two for a quarter and socks for 15 cents a pair.
This is like fiction," muses brother Bill. "Those were the days."
"And yet a survey of the news columns of these days will disclose the fact that even then folks were complaining about the cost of living and governors were asking state legislatures to investigate why prices were going up and housewives were organizing cooperative purchasing clubs.
"People never know when they are well off," remarks ma in philosophical mood.

UPSIDE-DOWN?
An eye is like a camera, with a lens in front to focus rays of light in a way that makes a clear "image" of the object looked at upon a sensitive film behind.
In the eye of this film is called the retina. But the image on it is upside down, and when people learn this they often ask how it is ever possible to see things in their right position. What do they do to turn the image back again?
This takes for granted that an image exists to be looked at, much as the ancient Greeks did when they said that things were continually giving off intangible, ghost-like images of themselves that were carried through the eye into the mind or soul behind it.
But the "image" in a camera (or on a retina) is not a thing which can lie passively anywhere to be examined. It is not a thing at all. To say that a clear image is there means that all the rays of light from each separate part of the object fall upon exactly the same spot in the film, no matter which part of the lens they came through. These rays of light are vibrations of the ether, and they are not there to be looked at—they are doing work, breaking up the chemicals that they fall upon into new combinations, so that when the film is developed and "fixed" there will be a difference between the places that they struck and those that they did not.
In the retina the chemical changes are rapidly neutralized, or the next object could not affect it. But they last long enough to act on the little nerve endings connected with each separate spot on the retina; and thus they start a chain of action that turns the eyes (and, perhaps, the rest of the body also) towards the things that "catch" them.
This turning is what counts the most in locating objects or their different parts.
Feelings of any sort are not meant merely to be had. They are meant to make one do something; and what one does, or tries to do, to things gives far more knowledge of them than any amount of purely passive sensation. One learns to know as well as to do by doing.

LIFERS CLUB, COMPOSED OF CONVICTS, PUBLISHES MAGAZINE UNDER AUSPICES SALVATION ARMY; CALL IT 'THE NEW DAY'

Will Write About Past, Making Publication Cheerful; All Offices of Organization Are Lifers, President Having Spent 40 Years Behind Prison Doors—Plan to Start Library

New York, July 8.—To help members of the Lifers' club, an organization composed exclusively of men serving life terms in penal institutions, the Salvation Army has begun the publication of a little magazine called The New Day. It is not designed for public distribution, and its circulation will be confined exclusively to members of the organization. They are to be its contributors, and they will exchange thoughts and views in its pages. They will write about something which impressed or interested them in the past, and they will try to cheer, encourage and help one another, but will avoid writing about their past crimes and failures. The first copy of The New Day, which for the present is to be issued quarterly, appeared last month.

The Lifers' club, which is a recent activity of the Salvation Army, now has 316 members, all of whom are serving life sentences in various penal institutions in the country. A few of these members are women. What led up to its formation was this: Among the early experiments of the army was the Brighter Day league, which is made up of the inmates and ex-inmates of prisons and penitentiaries, and has for its President no other than Commander Evangeline Booth herself. It was started as a means for the Salvation Army to gain a vital hold upon the delinquent in and out of prison.

The organization has now a membership of almost 5,000, and the army in looking over its files discovered that several hundred members were lifers. These men by reason of the seriousness of their crimes did not have the same privileges as other prisoners. They were confined in body and thought, and the club has succeeded in broadening their vision by bringing them into a close mental relationship and by showing them that they have a bond of sympathy with one another. The chief purpose of the club is to give the lifers something to occupy his mind, something to keep him in contact with fellow prisoners in other institutions and with the outside world.

Officers All Lifers
The officers of the organization are

Lifers and are selected by reason of length of service in prison years. The president of the club, for example, is Jesse H. Pomery, who has been in prison for forty-six years, forty-three of which he spent in solitary confinement. Three years ago he was taken out of solitary confinement and allowed the liberty enjoyed in prison by other prisoners. A lifer for almost half a century, he will doubtless spend the remaining years of his life in prison. When the news was brought to him last December that the army had selected him as president of the club he was overjoyed, and said he would do his best to fill the requirements of the office.

This is the letter in part which he addressed recently to the editor of the magazine from his cell in the Massachusetts State prison.

"Regarding 'The New Day,' I say thanks for your invitation. It is very pleasant to be remembered so kindly by you and your organization. I was so young, 14, when first in prison that I find it hard to separate the free life from what has now endured forty-six prison years; at the same time I dimly bear in mind a memory of a quiet home, loving care, and the boyish life of school and play. Not much apparently to me at that time of purpose, but thanks to divine Providence and the unceasing devotion and direction of my mother, to whom I owe everything, these forty-six years may dovetail in their result, as I look back and look forward to what my mother never ceased to say: 'Jesse, a bad beginning may have a good ending.' A good ending, I believe, was my mother's hope for me as a boy; a good citizen, and a healthy mind in a healthy body."

HEALTH ADVICE
Q. What are the symptoms of eczema?
A. There are six general symptoms of eczema, which it is well first to firmly fix in the mind. These are: 1. Itching, pricking, or burning pain. 2. Redness from congestion. 3. Papules, vesicles, pustules, or exudation. 4. Crusting and scaling. 5. Infiltration, or thickening. 6. Fissures or cracks.
Itching.—The most prominent and constant symptom in eczema is the itching, which may be preceded by or give place to a burning pain.
2. Redness from Congestion.—This is an essential element of the eruption dependent upon the nature of the process; there is almost invariably an elevation of temperature in the part affected. This redness disappears momentarily on pressure; after it has continued some time a yellowish staining remains.
3. Papules, Vesicles, or Exudation.—Eczema being an inflammatory eruption of a catarrhal type, the exudation takes place in the upper portion of the skin. If the process goes no further, there is only redness, with thickening of tissue, and consequently scaling. After the diseased patch has been bereft of its normal epidermis, the fluid exudes directly from the surface, and forms the "watering," "weeping," or discharging feature belonging to certain phases of the eruption. In some cases, this moist stage occurs almost immediately; the epidermis being shed in a mass.
4. Crusting and Scaling.—The exudate of eczema, which stiffens and stains linen, has a very strong tendency to dry into crusts and scales. If a discharging surface is left exposed to the air, it soon becomes glazed over and dry, in place of being sticky, this coating increases from beneath, and forms scales or crusts of varying thickness.
5. Infiltration, or Thickening.—This symptom belongs principally to a chronic eczema, but is seen more or less in every case; the skin then acquires a hard, leathery condition, and the increased thickness is recognized by comparing a fold of diseased integument with a corresponding portion of unaffected skin.
6. Fissures or Cracks.—Closely connected with and dependent upon the last symptom are the fissures, or cracks, which occur in localities where eczematous skin is called upon to stretch and bend, as on the knuckles and palms, behind the ears, and elsewhere.
If you believe you have eczema do not attempt to diagnose or treat the condition yourself, but be sure to place yourself under the care of an experienced physician, preferably one who specializes in diseases of the skin.

Rosy Cheeks & Satin Skin
Because of her rosy cheeks and satin skin a woman attracts the admiration of all men. When the young woman peers in her glass, she may see pimples and blotches and she immediately goes to the drug store for paint, powders and beauty creams, when she should go there for a blood medicine and stomach alterative known as "Golden Medical Discovery."
This vegetable tonic and blood alterative clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, while pimples, boils and eruptions vanish quickly. ## TO TRAP VILLA, HONESTY PLUS HORSES NEEDED

Mexican General Tells Just How it May be Done and Says Bandit is Coward

El Paso, Tex., July 8.—Honesty of purpose, co-operation of leaders of forces who have taken the field against him and good horses are all that is necessary to capture Pancho Villa, according to General Jose Gonzalo Escobar, who arrived at Juarez, opposite here in search of the good horses. He stated that he had been well supplied with funds and would purchase 3,000 horses if he could find that number would be required of them.

"I know Villa, and I am what you Americans call 'wise to him,'" said General Escobar. "Villa is not the fearless hero he is thought by many people. On the contrary, he is only a cowardly bandit, who like a covey, stalks through the brush at night, seeking advantage of other when the opportunity offers."

General Escobar then told of how Villa has been harried from place to place for the past twenty days until, practically stripped of his command, which had surrendered or scattered. Villa was headed for the mountains with about sixty men, while the balance of his force, who had worn out their mounts, were hiding in the brush in groups of tens and twos, or had been taken by pursuers.

"Two detachments of cavalry, under General Amaro," he continued, "will take part in the pursuit of Villa. The government now has in Chihuahua nearly 10,000 men to be used directly against the bandit. If it is necessary, more will be sent to Chihuahua."

"This is a campaign of cavalry, however, and troops in large numbers will not be effective in gaining results against Villa. The pursuit can best be accomplished by small detachments of picked men, well horsed, who can get over the mountains rapidly."

RURAL POPULATION IN PARTS OF RUSSIA THRIVE IN SPITE OF THE RIGORS OF BOLSHEVIST GOVERNMENT

Moscow, July 8.—The condition of the rural population is excellent in the Volga district, owing to the fact that much which was formerly sold is now consumed as money is valueless. The peasants being unable to purchase agricultural implements, seeds, clothing and other manufactured articles. This was gleaned by The Associated Press correspondent who visited the town of Nijni Novgorod, Simbirsk, Samara, and Saratov while on tour with the English Labor Delegation to Russia recently.

There is an abundance of fresh eggs, butter and milk in most villages and in one town which was visited, there was 7,000 head of cattle for a population of 5,000.

"The system of land tenure varies but in the majority of the villages the peasants are the actual owners of the land, which has been distributed since the revolution in equal shares for each adult inhabitant."

The government's requisities are met with some opposition but the peasants are permitted to retain 32 pounds (115 pounds) of flour per capita as a yearly ration and must deliver up 100 liters (120 quarts) of milk per cow and 10 eggs per hen per year.

Many of the villages are being organized on a commune basis, notably in the self-governing German commune with the capital at Marxstadt. The population of the German commune is 600,000, all of whom speak pure German after an absence of 100 years from their native country.

The local government of Marxstadt is well organized with schools, hospitals, social service, admirable administrative offices, and a number of small industries such as leather factories, four mills and turning shops. The Germans have formed and sent to the front several regiments of infantry and cavalry, commanded by their own officers.

Politically the villages have been only slightly touched by the revolution. Party lines are practically non-existent, and the government seldom interferes in its local matters. The rich peasants are discontented with the present situation owing to the redistribution of land which has deprived them of part of their holdings and which is making the poorer peasants better off than they ever were before.

Evidence of the government's efforts to modernize the rural population appear on every hand by the establishment of schools for adult illiterates, libraries, reading rooms and instruction in the new methods of agriculture.

The food situation in the towns is fairly good though the lack of salt meat and fat is evident but the system of food distribution is effective with the speculative prices one third to one-fifth less than those in Moscow.

WOLVES RUN WILD
Phoenix, Ariz., July 8.—Wolf packs are running on the ranges near the Apache forest in the White Mountains and north of Ash Fork. Stockmen say their kill averages 22 calves at least every third night. Federal game warden officials are co-operating with cattle owners in an attempt to exterminate them.

HOLD STREET CAR FUNERALS
Mexico City, July 8.—Street car funerals are not uncommon in Mexico. A string of eight or ten cars, heavily draped in black may be seen occasionally passing through the principal streets. The first car carries the body of the deceased. The next two or three contain huge floral offerings and the last cars are filled with mourners.

TWIN WEAPONS AID CONQUEST OF JAPANESE

Bribery and Bayonets Are Used by Them in Submission of Siberia, it is Asserted

Land of Wealth as Prize

Veil Lifted from Siberian War Against Reds Shows War for Gain, He Says

BY JACK MASON, Manager, Far East Bureau, News paper Enterprise Association.
Shanghai, China, July 8.—By bribery and bayonet Japan has gained bloody title to the rich resources of Eastern Siberia and is now mauling down the loath with bullets.

Gold, silver, mines, harbors—the untold wealth of great provinces bigger than many American states—constitute the prize.

I am able today to quote from authentic documents issued by the Japanese themselves including the ultimatum they threw down to the Provisional Russian government expecting a refusal of its harsh terms would give excuse for attack.

As all the world knows, Japan's original pretext for sending troops to Siberia was to help the Czech soldiers get out. That was also the reason for the U. S. presence in Siberia, and when the Czechs were safely through to the sea coast and departing the United States got out.

The Japs did not, though they had promised to.

Jap detachments on police duty in Amur province in Suchan mine district and other sections, were concentrated at strategic points. This was preliminary to withdrawal to Japan and the general commanding the fourteenth Japanese division.

Siberians' Relief Is Short-Lived
Siberia breathed a great sigh of relief, for while the American soldiers were respected, even treated to remain the Jap occupation had been arrogant and brutal.

The Provisional Russian government with headquarters at Vladivostok was maintaining law and order. It had resulted from a great popular uprising against the reactionary Russian general, Rozanov, and Semenov, and Kalmikoff. They were overthrown. Kalmikoff was taken prisoner by the Chinese. Rozanov fled to Japan. All were known to be in the pay of Japan although professing to be fighting to save Siberia from Bolshevism.

The revolution was so quickly successful that the Japanese general soon declared neutrality and then accepted the new Russian government on an outward basis of friendly, peaceful cooperation.

At the head of this government was a Russian of probity and prominence. Vladimir Lenin, president of "all the zemstvos (local councils) of the maritime province."

But soon came signs that Japan did not intend to quit Siberia in a hurry. Japanese soldiers dug new trenches around their barracks in Vladivostok. They took possession of Tiger Hill. They took possession of the city. They denied the provisional government access to the Russian military stores for use against warlike bands of reactionaries although the other allied military advisers favored giving it.

On March 14 a Japanese proclamation invited Japan to a public protest to quit Siberia when the Czechs were out said.

Japan standing geographically in a different relationship than other countries must consider its peculiar position. Particularly it must be considered that the political situation in Siberia has direct and immediate bearing on Manchuria and Korea.

The imperial government cannot see its way clear to recall its expeditionary forces just at present.

Then followed another promise to withdraw at some unknown future date.

Arrogant Demands Forced on Russians
Five days later the Jap general Takaganagi, headed to the provisional

PLAN EXPEDITION INTO RED RIVER VALLEY TO UNEARTH HISTORIC BONES OF REPTILES OF LONG AGO

Edmonton, Alta., July 8.—Another expedition to look for the bones of great prehistoric reptiles in the Red River valley of Alberta is on its way. This time it is under the direction of Dr. W. A. Parks, of the University of Toronto and the Royal Ontario Museum. For a number of years expeditions have been an annual summer journey for three months. Two years ago the almost perfect specimen of the Kritosaurus incurvimanus which has just been found by the professor but have not yet been carved free from the rock. It is the hope of Professor Parks to collect ultimately for the Royal Ontario Museum one of the finest exhibits of dinosaurs in existence.

The locality and the method of finding the specimens are described by Professor Parks. "The river cuts a high through the flat prairie to a depth of 400 feet, forming a whole lot of broken buttes, and it is among these that the bones are discovered. One of the difficulties in obtaining complete specimens is that the bones cannot be obtained until they are partly exposed by the action of natural denuding causes. Sometimes you are disappointed then, for after exploring you may find only a single bone. You dig down as close as you can and pack the rock in plaster paris for shipment."

The Red River valley 3,000 years ago was near the coast of a great inland sea that stretched from the Gulf of Mexico to the Arctic ocean. The sand along the shallow, brackish shores of this great body of water formed a splendid preserve for those huge reptiles which inhabited the world at that time. Our Kritosaurus was found in what we call the Belly River formation of the Upper Cretaceous system," explains Professor Parks.

Russian government arrogant written demands including:

Free provision of Japanese troops with "all means necessary for their sojourn, i. e., quarters, provisions, ways of communication, correspondence," etc.

Suppression of "secret societies" and groups which threaten the safety of our forces and the peace and security in Korea and Manchuria."

Suppression of Japanese criticism in Russian papers.

The provisional Russian government "to submit to all the agreements which have been made by our government and our command on the one hand and the Russian authorities on the other."

WHENEVER SUCH AGREEMENTS MIGHT HAVE BEEN CONCLUDED"

Thus by this last demand the Siberians were ordered to O. K. all the illegal grants and concessions bought from reactionary Russia generals by the Japanese.

This ultimatum was so stiff no one in Vladivostok expected the Russians would accept it. But the Japs, 24 hours' knowing they were helpless. Perhaps they expected later to find a way out. It was agreed that official signatures would be affixed the next day.

That very night the Russians were attacked by Japanese troops in various places. But the Japs, 24 hours' knowing they were helpless. Perhaps they expected later to find a way out. It was agreed that official signatures would be affixed the next day.

Whether the Russians have formally signed is still in doubt here.

Plans for the outing have been made with the primary motive of making the affair one in which patriotism shall be the keynote.

WILD BUFFALO IN YELLOWSTONE ARE INCREASING

Fear of Them Dying Out Fades When New Group of Animals Was Discovered in Park

Yellowstone Park Wyo., July 8.—Convincing evidence that the wild buffalo of Yellowstone National Park, the last surviving remnant of the great herds which once roamed the western plains are on the increase instead of dying out as was feared has been obtained in the discovery of a new group in the southern portion of the park. About 15 animals were observed, evidently a part of the old herd which it is thought grew so large that some of its members were forced to break away and seek new pasturage.

Definite information has been obtained by park authorities that there are now more than 100 of the wild buffalo in the park. Formerly there were only about half that number.

When discovered, the herd was within five miles of one of the largest hotels in the park and a snapshot was obtained of one of the animals a time bull probably the first photograph ever taken of a wild buffalo.

Ordinarily the wild buffalo never are seen by tourists and only rarely by park authorities even by the rangers who patrol the most remote sections. The appearance of this new herd close to the main line of travel was before the season opened and the animals apparently had been lured down from the mountain fastnesses by the abundance of spring grass on the lower levels. They disappeared into untraveled country as soon as automobiles became frequent along the highways.

These animals have been added to this year's census of the herd of the park which now has a population of 500. Part of the same herd has been placed in control at Mammoth Hot Springs for the benefit of visitors.

CROP SUMMARY

Weather and crop summary for the week ending July 6, 1920.
Washington, D. C., July 8.—The weather was favorable for agricultural interests in most sections, except that work was retarded by heavy showers in a few, north central districts. There was sufficient, except in a few sections in the central and northeastern states.

The week was rather cool for corn in the north central states but warm in the central and southwestern sections. In the north central states there was sufficient soil moisture.

Winter wheat made good progress in the northern portion of the belt and in the elevated western districts, while the harvest in the central states made very good progress on account of favorable weather conditions.

Spring wheat made good to excellent progress in practically all sections of the belt and the condition of the crop continues mostly excellent. Other small grains continue in mostly satisfactory condition.

Potatoes truck pastures and ranges improved generally, except where it was too wet for potatoes in Minnesota and northern Maine and where moisture was deficient in localities from the central Ohio southeastward. Livestock was reported in unusually satisfactory condition.

PAINTS PICTURE OF WANT CAUSED BY SERBIAN RULE

Paris, July 8.—The Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Montenegro maintained a "kingdom" that country has issued an official communique quoting the news paper Republique of Belgrade concerning the Serbian occupation of Montenegro. The article says:

"The people of Montenegro are naked and have no shoes. They are too weak to work and earn a living because a majority of the population has had little to eat for the last eight months or more. Many infants are dying and the children in many have been unable to go to school because of weakness. This economic misery which is indescribable is aggravated by the regime of the authorities. The occupation is maintained by force and corruption. The oppressor sees in the government of Belgrade an enemy in the people and then kills them. We who are not killed are thrown into prison."
